Course Description:

This class is designed to enhance understanding and appreciation of film and television. Students will learn how elements such as editing, cinematography, sound and set design work together to develop stories and characters. We will explore deeper meanings and patterns in film and television and how the art form has developed over the years.

The class presents a range of films, including Born This Way, Autism In Love and Wonder. Television shows such as The Good Doctor will also be screened. Students will be encouraged to view films and shows between sessions and bring their own examples to the discussion. Although not required, students can share their personal responses to what they watch.

SESSIONS WILL NOT BE SPENT WATCHING ENTIRE TV EPISODES OR FILMS. Participants will plan and share ways to snack healthy while watching movies and TV. 😊

If you love film, or just want to learn more about the elements of film for your personal enjoyment, this is the class for you!

PBS Adult Education classes are taught using various instructional methods tailored to the specific needs of adult learners. Students will be encouraged to develop critical thinking, research and study skills, and utilize technology for learning and collaboration. All students inherently benefit from being engaged in an active college environment.
