Marvel and the DC Universe: Past, Present and Future

Step into the magnificent world of the two most influential universes to date! Students will learn about the Marvel and DC universes, how they came about and what the future holds. The topics of the courses will included, but are not limited to:

- The history of both of the universes
- Character development
- Current hot topics for the universes
- The future of the universes in film and comics
- Discussions of characters and their roles
- The influence they have on the world

The goal of the class is to learn and enjoy. From Spidey to Batman and Daredevil to the Joker this class is sure to be engaging and full of fun!

Meet the Instructor

Vincent Gamboni: Vince is passionate about the Marvel and DC Universes. Since a very young age, he has wanted to be just like Spiderman! Vincent regularly goes to fandom events, dressing as some of his favorite characters from the universes (like Bane and Deadpool). I am very excited to see what the future has in store for DC and Marvel! Vincent has received his Masters in ABA and has been working with individuals with autism for over 12 years.

He has worked as a Community Habilitation Worker, ABA therapist, Autism Specialist, Consultant and has taught multiple classes for PBS. Vincent looks forward to working with every single one of his students each semester!

PBS Adult Education classes are taught using various instructional methods tailored to the specific needs of adult learners. Students will be encouraged to develop critical thinking, research and study skills, and utilize technology for learning and collaboration. All students benefit from being engaged with interesting material and collaborating with other students.
