Money Matters

Creating and managing a budget is an important skill for independence that many young adults struggle with. Balancing income and expenses will put you ahead and make you money wise. Money matters!

Distinguishing wants from needs and understanding your goals is vital. With smart choices, we can get the most from the money that is available to us. This course will discuss the basic concepts of money, saving, spending, budgeting, investing and more. Topics include comparison shopping and online shopping pitfalls. Students will identify and set their own future goals, understand how to use money efficiently and create a system to stay on track with their budget.

Whether living independently or saving to buy something, this course will help you. This class will teach valuable money skills for students at all levels in a fun and enriching manner. Come join us this fall!

Meet the Instructor

Vincent Gamboni has taken several finance and money management classes over the years. He currently invests in multiple markets and has taught various individuals how to manage their money properly. Vincent has received his Masters in ABA and has been working with individuals with autism for over 12 years. He has worked as a Community Habilitation Worker, ABA therapist, Autism Specialist, Consultant and has taught multiple classes for PBS. Vincent looks forward to working with every single one of his students each semester!

PBS Adult Education classes are taught using various instructional methods tailored to the specific needs of adult learners. Students will be encouraged to develop critical thinking, research and study skills, and utilize technology for learning and collaboration. All students benefit from being engaged with interesting material and collaborating with other students.
