This class takes place on the beautiful campus of LIU Post. Students are engaged in not only the culture and experience of their course but the college campus experience.

Course Description - Social Media: Getting Connected & Staying Safe

In this class, students will dive deep into the world of social media. We will review the various platforms currently being used to get connected & stay connected with friends and family. We will also be looking at other platforms that are used in the professional world.

Some platforms that will be covered include:

- TikTok
- Instagram
- WhatsApp
- Facebook
- Twitter
- LinkedIn
- Snapchat
- and more.

Students will learn how the platforms can be used successfully and safely. Expect to hear about platform-specific online etiquette and general “dos and don’ts” of online behavior. This course is designed to help students become more social media savvy, understand and maintain safe online relationships and also have fun.

Your Instructor: Joshua Geier

My name is Joshua Geier and I grew up right here on Long Island! I graduated from CUNY Queens College where I studied History, with a focus on Middle Eastern studies.

A little bit about me... I love baseball and grew up idolizing Derek Jeter. I was a pitcher in high school but was also a student of the game. I can’t wait to share my experience with students!

I currently work as an Administrative Assistant for the Center for Community Inclusion, an organization focused on improving outcomes for diverse students across Long Island. One of my main responsibilities in this job involves the creation and maintenance of CCI’s social media presence. I previously worked with the Adler Center at the Mid-Island Y JCC. I love what I do, and I am very excited to be teaching classes for PBS!

COVID19 Clause:

PBS ACE classes follow COVID guidelines of host facilities. Under further notice, masks for all students and supports are required regardless of vaccination status as well as safe social distancing. If future guidance mandates, classes may move to a virtual platform.

PBS Adult Education classes are taught using various instructional methods tailored to the specific needs of adult learners. Students will be encouraged to develop critical thinking, research, and study skills, and utilize technology for learning and collaboration. All students benefit from being engaged with interesting material and collaborating with other students.
