Course Description: U.S. Presidents - George Washington to Ronald Reagan

---

In this course, students will dive into American history and learn about some of our country's most important historical figures: The Presidents of the United States. Some (not all) of the Presidents that we are sure to discuss include:

- George Washington
- Abraham Lincoln
- Teddy Roosevelt
- John F. Kennedy
- Richard Nixon
- Thomas Jefferson
- Franklin Delano Roosevelt (FDR)
- Harry Truman
- Lyndon Baines Johnson (LBJ)
- Ronald Reagan

We will review the biographies of some of these most admired (and not so admired) leaders, taking into consideration the times in which they lived. We'll learn about the job description of the President as outlined in the U.S. Constitution, the story of some of the more significant elections, the role of First Ladies, life in the White House, and more. This course is a history and civics course and not a discussion of current politics beyond the term of Ronald Reagan.

Your Instructor

Michael Savini has a diverse range of interests, Cooking, photography, woodworking, music, the Mets of course and more. He enjoys sharing his interests and talents with others. Michael has studied a number of U.S. Presidents extensively. His "favorite" President is Lyndon Baines Johnson and he recently visited his ranch in Texas to expand his knowledge of LBJ's life and legacy. Michael is well-known throughout Long Island and has been involved with supporting a diverse array of individuals in a number of different capacities. He is happy to be back as an instructor for this round of PBS Adult Education classes.

PBS Adult Education classes are taught using various instructional methods tailored to the specific needs of adult learners. Students will be encouraged to develop critical thinking, research and study skills, and utilize technology for learning and collaboration. All students benefit from being engaged with interesting material and collaborating with other students.
