Queen: We Will Rock You

This class will take a serious look at the band Queen, their roll in Rock history, and how they have influenced others that came after them.

We will dive into their many chart topping albums and review their career, from the beginnings up to their resurgence into the world spotlight over this past year and ongoing touring with Adam Lambert as a lead singer in the place of the legendary Freddie Mercury. We will review this band's epic performances from around the world and finish the semester by examining Rock & Roll's greatest performance of all time; LIVE AID.

Come spend "A Day at the Races" or a "Night at the Opera" as we "Play the Game" with the class, "Queen: We Will Rock You". Queen reigns!!

Meet the Instructor

Scott Hoelldobler: Scott's passion for music began with trumpet at age 7. He listened to his parents' transistor radio in the backyard. He heard artists such as Herb Alpert and Chuck Mangione on his father's 8-track hi-fi. His own musical taste developed and he watched his best friends perform in the school auditorium and has been hooked on live music ever since. He began playing guitar and going to concerts regularly (more than 500 since 1984!).

He has seen most of the great Rock Stars from the 60's, 70's and 80's live, including The Who, Pink Floyd, The Police, Van Halen, Elton John, Rolling Stones, David Bowie and CSNY, to name a few.

He drove with friends to Philadelphia in 1987 to see Amnesty International - A Concert to End Apartheid, a significant experience for him. Road trips to shows were permanently etched into his soul and he has gone to as many as 5 shows in one week! He has studied the influences of rock legends such as Eric Clapton, Jeff Beck, Eddie Van Halen, and Carlos Santana (and was even a roadie for a day for Meat Loaf).

Scott is excited to share the History of Rock and Roll with you through a multi-media format, sharing his personal experiences and learning from the experiences of his students.

PBS Adult Continuing Education classes are taught using various instructional methods tailored to the specific needs of adult learners. Students will be encouraged to develop critical thinking, research and study skills, and utilize technology for learning and collaboration. All students inherently benefit from being engaged in an active college environment.
