Intro to Creative Writing

Have you ever thought about the power of the written word? What makes a good story or a good poem? How is your personality reflected in your writing? Creative writing skills can help you to discover ways to think more creatively and implement creative thought processes in your life.

In this course, students will explore a variety of outlets for creative writing such as:

- Short stories
- Poetry
- Fiction and Non-Fiction
- Persuasive writing
- Drama
- Descriptive writing

Through reading and writing exercises, collaboration and discussion, students will learn more about their own creative process. Join us to learn the fundamentals of creative writing and experience the joys that it can bring!

Students will also learn where their creative writing skills can assist them in day to day activities, from home to work.

Meet the Instructor

Gabrielle Zutter, a lifelong resident of Long Island, has been writing for most of her life. Her creative writing pieces were included in her high school newspaper and she submitted creative writing pieces to her college newspaper and was chosen for peer review (a recognition of distinction). Gabrielle is fascinated by any writing that goes outside of the bounds of technical forms of literature. Aside from her love of the creative writing process, Gabrielle is a devoted animal lover and recently completed the Behavior Analysis Masters program at LIU Post. She is excited about delving into Creative Writing and sharing her passion with others!

PBS Adult Education classes are taught using various instructional methods tailored to the specific needs of adult learners. Students will be encouraged to develop critical thinking, research and study skills, and utilize technology for learning and collaboration. All students inherently benefit from being engaged in an active college environment.
